

ザツネイ

CONSTITUTION OF THE KINGDOM OF ZATSUNEI

✓

Sukievo

PREAMBLE

We, the Zatsunese, and the King, united in our common interest for a beautiful land named have placed our unwavering trust in the King to create this Constitution, declaring the Kingdom of Zatsunei, thereby forging the union of our people with Zatsunei and God.

ザツネイ ,

Chapter I. Zatsunei

Article 1.

The name of our Kingdom will be ザツネイ, the Roman name will be Zatsunei. We shall be called Zatsunese.

Article 2.

Zatsunei shall be a Kingdom with Kings who continue our Nation.

Article 3.

The Kingdom of Zatsunei shall prioritize self-improvement, internal stability, and the prosperity of its people.

Article 4.

Zatsunei is a Christian Nation. The LORD is the supreme authority over existence, and the King is the sovereign ruler of Zatsunei.

Article 5.

The fox will be our national animal. There will be no hunting of the fox, and the fox will be a cultural treasure.

Article 6.

The people of Zatsunei shall be united under one Nation, one culture, and one identity. The Kingdom of Zatsunei shall be known as the homeland of the Zatsunese people. The traditions and customs of the Zatsunese people shall be preserved and respected as part of the Nation's cultural heritage. Zatsunei shall exist to uphold its values, protect its people, and maintain its sovereignty.

Article 7.

Zatsunei shall not extend its existence into the real world or claim to be a real Nation.

Article 8.

The official languages of Zatsunei are English and Zatsuni.

Article 9.

Zatsunei is a Nation that is independent and not subject to the governance of others.

Article 10.

Article repealed by the execution of Bill 2025/03.

Article 11.

Article repealed by the execution of Bill 2025/03.

Article 12.

Our national motto shall be “The Land of the Fox”.

Chapter II. The King

Article 13.

The King is the supreme authority of the Kingdom of Zatsunei. The King shall exercise his rights and will to govern as he sees fit, but shall do so without violating the Constitution. Only the King can change the Constitution. This Article may never be changed or revoked. The bounds of the Constitution do not apply to the first King of Zatsunei, Dezевло.

Article 14.

The King is inviolable and his will is the highest in the State.

Article 15.

The King may make, amend, change, or revoke laws without approval.

Article 16.

The King shall never amend Chapters I and II of this Constitution, except when Chapter II, Article 23, is put into effect.

Article 17.

The King can pardon, discipline, exile, and rehabilitate Zatsunese. He also grants, changes, and removes ranks, nobility, and honor status.

Article 18.

Declaring war, making peace, and concluding treaties is the sole prerogative of the King.

Article 19.

The King is the supreme commander of the Defense Forces. He also changes the peace status and organization of the Defense Forces.

Article 20.

The King proclaims the law of siege.

Article 21.

The King convokes, opens, dissolves, closes and changes the House of Cabinet.

Article 22.

In a state of emergency, the King may change laws with immediate effect to preserve Zatsunese dignity. Once the state of emergency has ended, these changes may be reversed or maintained at the will of the King and the House of Cabinet.

Article 23.

The King may amend the Constitution only with a full vote of the House of Cabinet. Chapters I and II may only be amended by a formal democratic vote with ninety percent approval of the Zatsunese people, full approval of the House of Cabinet, and at least ten thousand Citizens voting. This Article may not be changed or revoked.

Chapter III. The Right-Hand Man

Article 24.

The Right-Hand Man is the second in command of the Kingdom of Zatsunei. He is honored to be given the most trusted position. The Right-Hand Man leads the House of Cabinet. He advises and makes decisions with the King.

Article 25.

With the King's knowledge, the Right-Hand Man convokes, opens, dissolves and closes the House of Cabinet.

Article 26.

Chapter II, Article 22 also applies to the Right-Hand Man.

Article 27.

If the King is unable to fulfill his duties for an extended period, the Right-Hand Man assumes temporary leadership over governmental and military affairs.

Article 28.

The King may grant the Right-Hand Man additional rights not mentioned in this Constitution.

Article 29.

The Right-Hand Man may make, amend, change, or revoke laws with approval of the King.

Article 30.

Zatsunese can be pardoned, disciplined and rehabilitated by the Right-Hand Man.

Article 31.

The Right-Hand Man may restrict or override decisions made by Government officials or Defense Forces.

Chapter IV. The House of Cabinet

Article 32.

The House of Cabinet consists of members appointed by the King. They are responsible for the legislation of Zatsunei and consult with the King and the Right-Hand Man.

Article 33.

The House of Cabinet is made up of a maximum of twelve members, including the Right-Hand Man. The Cabinet may never exceed twelve members.

Article 34.

There shall be at least one sitting of the House of Cabinet per month.

Article 35.

Any proposed bill must be approved by at least three-quarters of all members of the sitting. In the event of a tie, the Right-Hand Man shall have the final decision.

Article 36.

The House of Cabinet may receive petitions from Citizens.

Article 37.

For a bill to become effective, the King must sign it.

Article 38.

The House of Cabinet may never propose bills that the King and Right-Hand Man regard as unconstitutional.

Article 39.

In case of urgency, the Right-Hand Man or the King may call an emergency sitting.

Article 40.

The members of the Cabinet are required to work together, respecting each other and respecting the Right-Hand Man.

Article 41.

If a bill is rejected, it may not be brought up again in the same sitting and for another four weeks.

Article 42.

For a sitting to commence, the Right-Hand Man and at least three Cabinet members must be present. The King assumes leadership over the Cabinet when the Right-Hand Man is unavailable.

Article 43.

Every House of Cabinet sitting must have an agenda.

Chapter V. Civil Rights

Article 44.

Every individual is entitled to live protected and free from unjust harm.

Article 45.

Individuals are free to practice their faith and beliefs as long as they do not do so in violation of the law.

Article 46.

Citizens are permitted to express their opinions, provided that these opinions do not infringe upon the law or the rights of others.

Article 47.

The privacy of homes, personal spaces, belongings, and all forms of communication shall remain inviolate. Searches, seizures, and surveillance may only be conducted when required for public safety or pursuant to the issuance of a lawful warrant.

Article 48.

All Citizens shall have the right to freely travel within the territory of Zatsunei, provided they do not violate any laws. Citizens shall also have the right to leave and return to Zatsunei without unjust restriction.

Article 49.

Men and women shall be equal in all aspects, including rights, duties, and opportunities, without discrimination.

Article 50.

The King stands above the law as the sovereign ruler. However, all other individuals, regardless of wealth, status, gender, sexuality, or any other distinction, shall be treated equally under the law.

Article 51.

Any individual charged with a criminal offense shall be entitled to a fair and impartial trial, and no individual shall be deemed guilty except upon proof of guilt beyond a reasonable doubt in a judicial tribunal.

Article 52.

No prisoner shall be subjected to torture, nor shall any cruel or excessive punishment be inflicted upon them.

Article 53.

All Citizens are permitted to gather in assembly, provided that they do not violate any laws or disrupt the peace.

Chapter VI. Duties of Citizens

Article 54.

Every Citizen is required to serve the Nation in good faith and with loyalty. It is the duty of each Citizen to uphold and obey the laws of the Nation, to respect its institutions, and to contribute to the preservation of its sovereignty and the promotion of its values. Laws may establish or modify the duties of Citizens as necessary.

Article 55.

Citizens are entrusted with the responsibility to contribute to the welfare of society and the community and to promote a positive influence. All Citizens shall assist each other and refrain from inciting hatred, violence or discord among the people.

Article 56.

Every Citizen shall have the duty to protect and preserve nature and environment.

Article 57.

Every Citizen has a duty to serve as a juror when needed, evaluating evidence impartially and basing their decision on the law.

Chapter VII. Judicature

Article 58.

The Supreme Tribunal shall be the highest judicial authority of Zatsunei. It shall have jurisdiction over cases involving unconstitutional acts and offenses against the integrity of the State. The Supreme Tribunal shall have the power to override the Civil Tribunal.

Article 59.

The Civil Tribunal shall be the primary judicial body of Zatsunei for handling criminal cases and civil disputes. It shall not have the authority to override decisions of the Supreme Tribunal.

Article 60.

Judgments issued by the Civil Tribunal may be appealed before the Supreme Tribunal.

Article 61.

The King shall serve as the supreme judge and preside over the Supreme Tribunal. The King may appoint supreme judges to the Supreme Tribunal and may also act as a judge in the Civil Tribunal.

Article 62.

Judges appointed to the Supreme Tribunal and Civil Tribunal shall possess a high level of competence in law and constitutional matters.

Article 63.

All trials and judgments shall be public unless their disclosure threatens the integrity of Zatsunei or may cause significant harm.

Article 64.

The organization and structure of the Supreme Tribunal and Civil Tribunal may be determined by law.

Chapter VIII. The Defense Forces

Article 65.

The Defense Forces of Zatsunei are entrusted with the defense of the Kingdom and its allies. It shall ensure internal stability, protect the Government, Citizens, and Nobles, and provide assistance in times of disaster within the Nation.

Article 66.

Laws shall determine the regulations for the Defense Forces.

Article 67.

Only Citizens of Zatsunei shall be eligible for military service.

Article 68.

Citizens of Zatsunei may be subject to conscription if required, otherwise military service shall be voluntary.

Article 69.

The Defense Forces shall work together with Citizens in times of need.

Chapter IX. Warfare

Article 70.

The event of war is established upon the declaration of war by the King.

Article 71.

The Defense Forces shall endeavor to neutralize hostilities.

Article 72.

The Defense Forces are obligated to obey the laws of war.

Article 73.

In a war, all Government entities shall remain operational.

Article 74.

The event of war is terminated by the declaration of the King.

Article 75.

Further laws shall determine warfare.